Micro Design^{EF}

The industry's most innovative ear piece manufacturer

Who we are

We're the young upstart. We want to earn your business. Give us a try and you will see how we are different. You won't be disappointed—that's a promise.

After working at one of the nation's leading ear mold laboratories, our company founder decided to strike out on his own and create a laboratory that is different than all the others. Our focus is on customers—a novel concept, we know. And we stand behind the quality of our product.

How we are different

Customer Service

We pride ourselves in strong customer service. Micro Design's dedicated customer service team is here to assist you, and our lab technicians are committed to making the best quality ear piece possible for your clients.

Simplified Pricing

We offer simplified pricing. Micro Design charges a flat fee for each ear piece and an additional charge for any acoustic modifications. It's that simple.

Online Ordering

Our online ordering system will save you time and let you know that we have received your order. We'll also notify you via e-mail when your order has been shipped. Simply fill out your order form online and then send us your impressions. If you prefer, we also offer traditional order forms.

Going Green

We're committed to reducing our carbon footprint. Through our online ordering system and other company-wide initiatives, we are reducing our impact on the environment.
